HEALTH AND WELFARE

The Development of Community Care

Revision to 1973-1974 of plans for the Health and Welfare Services of Local Authorities in England and Wales

"Health and Welfare: the Development of Community Care" (Cmnd. 1973) published on 17th April, 1963, presented in summary form the plans prepared by local authorities in 1962 for the long-term development of their health and welfare services. Paragraph 162 stated that local authorities were being asked to revise their plans annually and on each occasion to carry them forward so that plans for the decade ahead will always be in view. All local health and welfare authorities have prepared revisions of their plans for the ten years running from 1st April, 1964 to the 31st March, 1974. Summaries of these revised plans are presented and analysed in the present volume, in a manner closely similar to that used in Cmnd. 1973 and with authorities arranged in the same order. The main addition is information about special housing for the elderly expected to be provided by housing authorities and housing associations during the next five years (Table 1(d)).

Expenditure by local authorities on their health and welfare services has continued to rise, as in previous years (Table 1 of Cmnd. 1973). Revenue expenditure for 1962-63 totalled £112 million and for 1963-64 £124 million (provisional), while the total of loan sanctions recommended in each of those years was £15.2 million and £19.3 million respectively. The aggregate revenue and capital expenditure which the revised plans are estimated by local authorities to involve is included in the national tables in Appendix B.

APPENDIX A

SUMMARIES OF LOCAL AUTHORITIES' PLANS

GENERAL NOTES

1. The authorities are arranged by Hospital Regions in the same way as in "Health and Welfare: the Development of Community Care" (Cmnd. 1973) and as nearly as possible in the same sequence as in the Hospital Plan for England and Wales (Cmnd. 1604), Appendix A, in order to facilitate comparison with the Hospital Programme. The Hospital Regions and local authority areas are in many places not exactly co-terminous, and where a local authority area falls in more than one Hospital Region, it is placed under the Region in which the largest part of its population lives. The four Metropolitan Hospital Regions are combined.

2. The population estimates for 1963 are the Registrar General's mid-year estimates. The estimates prepared by the General Register Office for each area in 1964, 1969, and 1974 (which also relate to June 30th of each year) assume in general that the change which occurred between 1951 and 1963 in the proportion of the total England and Wales population residing in each area will continue at the same rate. When the annual rates of change between the 1951 and 1961 censuses and between mid-1961 and mid-1963 were similar, the average of the rates is assumed to continue; where they were not similar, a projected rate of change in the proportions is assumed having regard to the circumstances of the individual area. Apart from this, the estimates do not attempt to include forecasts of changes in migration trends in individual areas.

3. Premises, places and services include those provided under agency arrangements (except for centres for the elderly) and those provided in rented accommodation. Residential accommodation provided on behalf of local authorities by voluntary organisations for the elderly, for the physically handicapped and for the mentally handicapped is included in the figures of places but not of premises. The figures of adult training centre premises include social centres/clubs but the figures of places relate only to adult training centres. Only premises in use, or expected to be in use, at the given dates are shown. Total numbers of available places are shown, not merely occupied places.

4. Multi-purpose premises are shown in Table I(a) under each kind of provision and places are apportioned. For example a mixed training centre with 20 junior places and 30 adult places would be counted as follows:---

	Premises	Places
Junior Training Centre ...	1	20
Adult Training Centre ...	1	30

The figures of premises are, therefore, to some extent inflated.

5. For homes for the elderly separate figures for persons aged 65 and over and persons aged under 65 are shown in Table I(a) in order to give some indication of the extent to which places in homes for the elderly are used for younger people. Similarly figures of places in homes for the handicapped show separately the number of places filled by persons aged 65 and over. Table I(c) relates only to those places in homes for the elderly and for the physically handicapped which are occupied by persons aged 65 and over.

6. The physically handicapped include the blind and the deaf.

7. The figures of special housing for the elderly in Table I(d) show the number of persons accommodated in special housing where there is a resident warden, or where staff employed in a near-by residential home for the elderly are on call. Accommodation provided by Housing Societies is included in addition to local authority provision.

8. The figures of staff exclude trainees, pupils and supervisory staff (except that senior operational staff are included in the ambulance tables) and also the staff of the school health service. For staff engaged in more than one branch of domiciliary work, hours of work have been divided among the entries in Table II as appropriate. The forecast figures show the number the authorities consider they will need and will be prepared to employ, but limited, as regards 31st December, 1964, 31st December, 1965, and 31st December, 1966, to the numbers they expect to be able to recruit.

9. Social workers include all engaged in social work in the health and welfare services: almoners, family case workers, home teachers of the blind, mental welfare officers, moral welfare officers, psychiatric social workers, welfare officers and welfare officers for the deaf. They do not include welfare assistants.

10. Ambulances include sitting-case cars and dual purpose vehicles. Vehicles used for the Hospital Car Service are not included.
